Lyrical floral fantasies

KAY DAVENPORT

Kay's beautiful and lyrical original paintings have become hugely popular across the country in the last two years so this collection has been highly anticipated . Inspired by a grandfather who won countless awards for his beautiful flower gardens, Kay has a deeply personal love of nature which impacts on both her day to day life and her art. During the summer months she leaves home at dawn in order to catch the flowers as they are opening, laden with dew, often spotting bees which are still dormant on a bloom which gives her ample time to capture a series of close up images on which to base her next painting.

The image features a white background with abstract black ink splatters and lines. On the left side, there are several thin, dark lines that appear to be part of a larger, more complex structure, possibly a branch or a stem, with various sized black dots and blotches attached to them. The text 'Kay + Davenport' is written in a cursive, handwritten style in the center-right area of the page. The ink is black and the overall aesthetic is minimalist and artistic.
