TAKE ON POPULAR CULTURE

Focusing on brands, symbols and a whole range of popular cultural tropes, Stephen Graham invites us to consider society's attitude to wealth, glamour and ambition, creating striking mixed media artworks which feature exclusive crystals and diamond dust to make a glittering statement.

Born in Johannesburg, South Africa, Stephen studied at the prestigious Central Saint Martin's College of Arts and Design in London and made a name for himself creating dynamic designs for photoshoots, as well as TV, film and theatre sets before focusing entirely on a career as a fine artist. His innovative original work is now widely exhibited.

Playful yet thought provoking, Stephen Graham's first collection of hand signed limited editions communicates his thoughts and ideas in vibrant colour. Their impact is enhanced with his use of diamond dust to add sparkle and clarity.
